■ Social Programme

The conference fee includes a variety of social activities.

The welcome reception in the Stadtweinhaus will give the participants the opportunity to get together in a historical setting, where the Peace of Westphalia was negotiated four hundred years ago.

On the second evening, there is the opportunity to join a city sightseeing tour guided by a traditional night watchman. Afterwards we will visit the traditional brewery Pinkus Müller in Münster's old town.

The third evening starts with a visit to several sporting facilities and continues at the open air museum Mühlenhof where the participants will get a guided tour before enjoying a Westphalian buffet and traditional music.

The closing ceremony will also be held in the Stadtweinhaus. Afterwards there will be a bus transfer to the Bennohaus at the canal, where we will enjoy a barbecue and European folk dances.

■ The Host City

Münster - The home to the Peace of Westphalia

It was in 1648 when Münster already created a name for itself as a "congress location". 150 legations from all over Europe, including their entourage, came to negotiate the end of the Thirty Years War. For four years, Münster had to accommodate and cater not only for its then 10,000 inhabitants, but also for an almost equal number of visitors. A supreme achievement, especially in times of war. But the effort proved worthwhile: the Peace of Westphalia was signed and sealed at Münster's Town Hall.

Today, Münster is a young and modern city with 280,000 inhabitants, including more than 40,000 students, an innovative and strong economic location, and a city of science and savoir vivre. Still, it has remained faithful to its tradition being a city full of history, culture, atmosphere, scenery and culinary delicacies. Apart from being a university town, Münster is a Hanseatic City, the bicycle capital of Germany and one of the member cities of the "Historic Highlights of Germany".

■ European Association for Sociology of Sport (EASS)

The European Association for Sociology of Sport (EASS) was established with the aim of promoting closer co-operation and networking between experts dealing with social issues related to physical activity and sport in Europe. This is particularly important today due to the emergence of a new social structure at the European level, and the ways in which sport is affected by alterations in ethics, politics, economics, organization and legislation. Scientific analysis of these issues and joint efforts to promote the sociology of sport in Europe seem to be necessary steps to take particularly at this historical moment in time when Eastern European countries are being integrated into the European Union. For more information please visit the EASS website at www.eass-sportsociology.eu.
